

- ⇒ Watching your children / grandchildren playing sport
- ⇒ Coffee with a long-time friend
- ⇒ Kisses on the cheek by your grandchild
- ⇒ Conversations with neighbours
- ⇒ Long walks with the dog
- ⇒ Wedding ceremonies for someone special in your life
- ⇒ A busy day at the office
- ⇒ Saying goodbye in a funeral service to a loved one you won't see until you get to Heaven
- ⇒ Each and every breath on earth

When this coronavirus ends, may we find that we have become more like the person we wanted to be and were called to be and may we stay that way until God calls us home.

Lord, forgive us for taking so many of your simple blessings in life for granted.

Table of Contents

When Covid is over	Page 1
Books of the Bible Quiz	2
The Royal Wedding 1947	3/4/5
Things my mother said	6/7
Quiet Listening	8
The Credit Card	9/10
Puzzles	11
Do You Know These Facts?	12
He Secretly Hoped	13/14
A Little Bit of Humour	15
Recipe	16
Books of the Bible	17
Recipe	18
Solution Page.....	Back Cover

RECIPE “COFFEE CAKES”

INGREDIENTS

- 125g Butter, softened
- 110g Demerara Sugar
- 2 Eggs, separated
- 3 Teaspoons Instant Coffee Granules
- 1 Tablespoon Hot Water
- 100g Self-raising Flour
- 2 Tablespoons Milk
- 2 Teaspoons sieved instant Coffee Powder, for sprinkling

COFFEE ICING

- 2 Teaspoons Instant Coffee Granules
- 1 Tablespoon Hot Water
- 160g Icing Sugar

- 1) Preheat oven to 160°C/140°C fan-assisted. Grease Muffin pan
- 2) Beat butter and sugar in a medium bowl with an electric mixer until light and fluffy. Beat in egg yolks, one at a time, until combined. Stir coffee and the hot water in a small cup until coffee dissolves. Stir sifted flour, milk and coff mixture into butter mixture.
- 3) Beat egg whites in a small bowl with an electric mixer until soft peaks form. Fold egg whites into cake mixture.
- 4) Spoon the mixture into the muffin pan. Bake for about 20 minutes. Cool cakes in the pans 5 minutes before turning upside down, onto a wire rack to cool.
- 5) Meanwhile, make coffee icing. Spread cakes with icing, allowing it to drip a little down the sides. Sprinkle cakes with a little sieved instant coffee powder.
- 6) COFFEE ICING
Stir coffee and the hot water in a small cup until coffee dissolves. Sift icing sugar into a small bowl; gradually stir in the coffee until icing is smooth.

7) DON'T FORGET THE INVITE

ANSWERS

ACROSS: 1. Relapse. 5. Waste. 7. Backlog. 8. Laugh. 10. Alto. 11. Statues. 13. Tidied. 14. Adjust. 17. February. 19. Chit. 21. Label. 22. Grasped. 23. Solid. 24. Delayed. DOWN: 2. Located. 3. Pull. 4. Eighty. 5. Well-to-do. 6. Squat. 7. Beautiful. 9. Hesitated. 12. Beguiled. 15. Unhappy. 16. Frigid. 18. Babel. 20. Fall.

QUICK CROSSWORD

1. Valley. 2. Affray. 3. Laurel. 4. Dagger. 5. Fatter. 6. Laptop.

HONEYCOMB

5	1	4	2	7	9	8	3	6
8	6	9	4	3	5	2	7	1
7	2	3	6	1	8	5	9	4
9	3	5	1	8	4	6	2	7
6	4	8	7	2	3	1	5	9
1	7	2	9	5	6	4	8	3
3	5	7	8	6	1	9	4	2
2	9	1	5	4	7	3	6	8
4	8	6	3	9	2	7	1	5

SUDOKU SOLUTION

FIND THE CAKE

1. Angel cake
2. Coconut cake
3. Muffin
4. Yule Log
5. Victoria sandwich
6. Eccles cake
7. Christmas cake
8. Jaffa Cake
9. Dundee Cake
10. Swiss Roll
11. Brownies
12. Pecan Pie
13. Coffee cake
14. Flapjack
15. Lemon cake
16. Pancakes
17. Chocolate cake
18. Carrot cake
19. Tiffin
20. Shortbread
21. Date and Walnut

Keep Smiling

A huge "Thank You" to those who have given items for Connected. These are always welcome. If you have any feedback or would like to discuss any of the content in "Connected"

01234 212919 or 07720260213

se.grant@btinternet.com

Connected

April 2021 Issue 16

When Covid-19 Is Over.....

When this coronavirus is over and life returns to normal, may we never, ever take for granted again.....

- ⇒ A handshake or a kind word from a stranger
- ⇒ A hug from a friend
- ⇒ Worshipping with other believers in a crowded church service
- ⇒ A boring night at home
- ⇒ Full shelves at the grocery store
- ⇒ A night out with the wife or husband at your favourite restaurant

THE BOOKS OF THE BIBLE (all 66)

The Old Testament

1. Genesis 2. Exodus 3. Leviticus 4. Numbers 5. Deuteronomy 6. Joshua 7. Judges 8. Ruth 9. 1 Samuel 10. 2 Samuel 11. 1 Kings 12. 2 Kings 13. 1 Chronicles 14. 2 Chronicles 15. Ezra 16. Nehemiah 17. Esther 18. Job 19. Psalms 20. Proverbs 21. Ecclesiastes 22. Song of Solomon 23. Isaiah 24. Jeremiah 25. Lamentations 26. Ezekiel 27. Daniel 28. Hosea 29. Joel 30. Amos 31. Obadiah 32. Jonah 33. Micah 34. Nahum 35. Habakkuk 36. Zephaniah 37. Haggai 38. Zechariah 39. Malachi

The New Testament

1. Matthew 2. Mark 3. Luke 4. John 5. Acts 6. Romans 7. 1 Corinthians 8. 2 Corinthians 9. Galatians 10. Ephesians 11. Philippians 12. Colossians 13. 1 Thessalonians 14. 2 Thessalonians 15. 1 Timothy 16. 2 Timothy 17. Titus 18. Philemon 19. Hebrews 20. James 21. 1 Peter 22. 2 Peter 23. 1 John 24. 2 John 25. 3 John 26. Jude 27. Revelation

Tom & Jerry is 78 years old now.

How many of you grew up watching them?

Can you find the names of 25 books of the Bible in text below.

(A list of all the Books in the Bible is shown on page 17 -
the answers in the next edition of Connected)

This is a most remarkable puzzle. Someone found it in the seat pocket on a flight from Los Angeles to Honolulu, keeping himself occupied for hours. One man from Illinois worked on this while fishing from his john boat. Roy Clark studied it while playing his banjo. Elaine Viets mentioned it in her column once. One woman judges the job to be so involving, she brews a cup of tea to help calm her nerves. There will be some names that are really easy to spot, that's a fact. Some people will soon find themselves in a jam especially since the book names are not necessarily capitalised. The truth is, from answers we get, we are forced to admit it usually takes a minister or scholar to see some of them at the worst. Something in our genes is responsible for the difficulty we have.

Those able to find all of them will hear great lamentations, from those who have to be shown. One revelation may help, books like Timothy and Samuel may occur without their numbers.

Punctuation or spaces in the middle are normal. A chipper attitude will help you to compete. Remember, there are 25 books of the Bible lurking somewhere in this text.

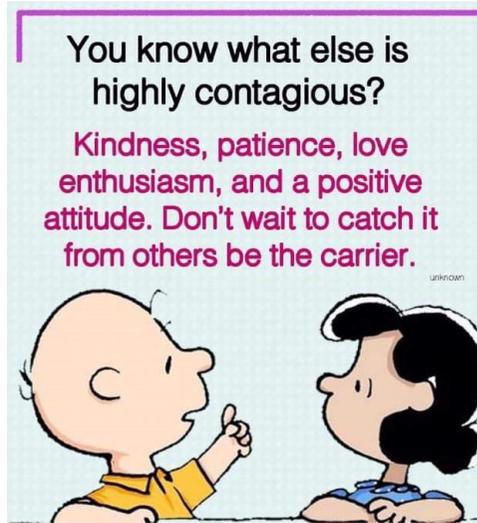

The Royal Wedding 1947

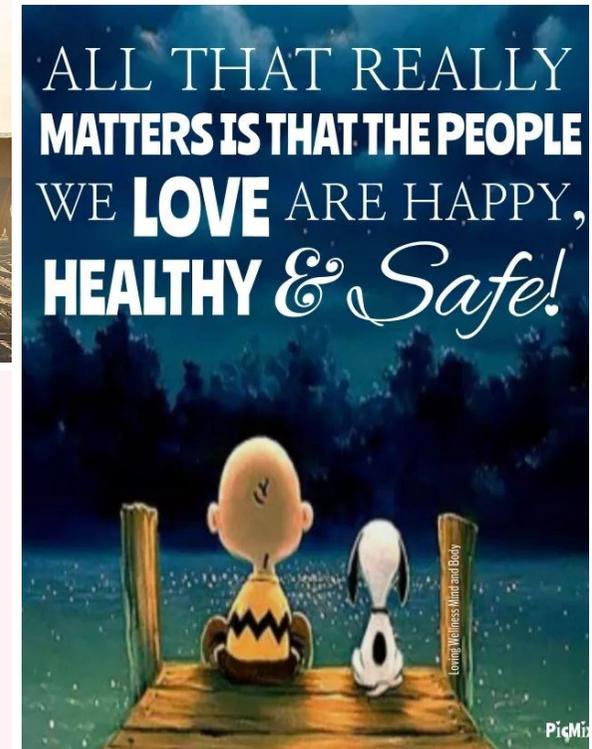

In November 1947 at Westminster Abbey, one of the two hymns used at the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Philip of Greece was 'The Lord's My Shepherd' to the beautiful tune of Crimond.

A very young princess was determined to marry for love. A royal suitor "handsome as any film star" according to the papers who provoked suspicion because of his background and heritage. This was the wedding of the future monarch, so anonymity was out of the question. The ceremony was broadcast on the radio to millions of listeners, and there were 2,500 guests at Westminster, including six kings and seven queens.

'The Lord is my shepherd, I lack nothing. He makes me lie down in green pastures, he leads me beside quiet waters, he refreshes my soul. He guides me along the right paths for his name's sake. Even though I walk through the darkest valley, I will fear no evil, for you are with me.' (Psalm 23:1-4)

Just a thought

Maybe this day is not one of your favorites. But never forget that every day you wake up is an amazing gift and it's up to you to make it count.

A Little Bit of Humour

DON'T WORRY ABOUT GETTING OLDER.
YOU STILL GET TO DO
STUPID THINGS,
ONLY SLOWER.

DespicableMeMinions.org

Laughing is the best medicine. But if you're laughing for no reason,
you may need medicine.

DOCTORS

A woman went to the doctor's surgery where she was seen by one of the new doctors, but after about four minutes in the examination room, she burst out, screaming as she ran down the corridor. An older doctor stopped her and asked what the problem was, and she told him her story. After listening, he made her sit down and told her to go and relax in another room. The older doctor marched down the corridor back to where the first doctor was and demanded, "What's the matter with you? Mrs Smith is 63 years old, she has four grown-up children and seven grandchildren, and you told her she was pregnant?" The new doctor continued to write on his clipboard and, without looking up, said, "Does she still have the hiccups?"

Never go to a doctor whose office
plants have died.

Erma Bombeck

My daughter is thinking of becoming a doctor - she has the handwriting for it.

The Royal Wedding 1947 (cont'd)

Psalm 23 is probably the most well-known and best loved of all the psalms. There are places in Scripture that are powerful, so deep, that to recite them is to experience them. Psalm 23 is one of those places. It's a comfort to read and to meditate on. It inspires hope and confidence, but where does it sit in our experience? Are we living in the same relationship with God that David had when he wrote those memorable words?

'The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want' or 'I lack nothing.' Can we say this is true in our own lives when our back is against the wall and we don't know which way to turn?

The themes or pictures in Psalm 23's six verses start with the basic idea that as 'The Lord's my Shepherd', I have everything I need. Green pasture, still waters and restoration of the soul are pictures that follow both in this hymn and in the original psalm.

A shepherd often takes the flock of sheep high into the mountains in the summer to find good places for the sheep to graze. We can only imagine the dangers along the way - cliffs and crevices in the rocks, wild animals, thieves, sheep that wander off the path... A good shepherd loves the sheep and provides protection. When Psalm 23 was written, and in Jesus' day, too, shepherds would carry a rod carved out of a stick. Used for protection, guidance, care and support.

All of us surely come to a point, at some time in life, when we realise that we need help. As our Queen faces her own 'valley of the shadow of death' it will be equally true for those we love and know facing illness or loss of a loved one, facing our own mortality, facing a situation where we need help. God is with us in those times, offering care and compassion.

As followers of Christ, none of us, not even the Royal Family are guaranteed immunity from the 'knocks' of life and the problems of living in a flawed world, but we can claim a Shepherd who will provide all our needs.

The Royal Wedding 1947 (cont'd)

A Prayer based on Psalm 23.

The Lord ...

You are THE Lord. There is no one like You. And You are MY Lord. Thank You for being my Lord.

Is ...

You ARE my Lord today. Not yesterday, not tomorrow ... today! Thank You for being present today as my Lord.

My Shepherd ...

Lord, You guide me like a Shepherd. You follow me as I roam and make sure that I am OK. I trust You to guide me. You are the Great Shepherd, and You do not lose even one of Your sheep. I know Your voice, and I will follow You all the days of my life.

God Bless You and our Queen and family today.

These thoughts was written by Andrew Wileman, Assistant Director,
Older People's Services, The Salvation Army

He Secretly Hoped ... (cont'd)

soared above the keeper and found the back of the net! The final whistler blew: 3-2.

Despite his mild protest, the “saviour of the team” was carried shoulder-high from the pitch amid cheers and thunderous applause. The young boy hoped, but of course it was just a dream.

When the Bible says, “Now faith means putting our full confidence in the things we hope for, it means being certain of things we cannot see” (Hebrews 11:1), it is not referring to fanciful imagination with no link to reality. We may lose ourselves in a personalised fantasy, but that is not to be confused with either faith or hope.

The writer to the Hebrews is referring to God’s promise to accept us into his endless friendship on the basis of our trust in him. We are offered, through faith in Jesus’ sacrifice and resurrection, forgiveness of sins, and inward knowledge in our hearts of God’s law and a growing understanding of his nature.

This is no daydream, no false hope or pious pronouncement. It’s a work in progress. It may not yet be completely fulfilled, but faith gives us the “evidence of things not seen” (Hebrews 11:1), and assures us that one day it will be.

He Secretly Hoped ...

Every Saturday afternoon, sitting watching, the young boy hoped it would happen. He didn't want any of his team seriously hurt, but a slight sprain would mean that a substitute would be needed. When a badly bruised ankle saw another player hobble off, it would be his chance. He imagined an announcement over the PA system asking is someone watching in the crowd would be prepared to play. Since he was already in his team's kit, he would jump up to take his place among his heroes.

Daydreaming on, he imagined the match at 2-2 with less than a minute until full-time. He successfully tackled the burly opponent and gave a long pass to the striker. Three players blocked the striker's path, but in the meantime the boy had sprinted up the wing. Surrounded, the striker returned the ball to the lad, and-whoosh!- the ball left the boy's foot,

Things my mother taught me

To appreciate a job well done: "If you're going to kill each other, do it outside - I've just finished cleaning!"

Religion: "You'd better pray that will come out of the carpet."

Time travel: "If you don't tidy up that mess, I'm going to knock you into the middle of next week!"

Logic: "Because I said so, that's why."

Further logic: "If you fall out of that swing and break your neck, you're not going to the shops with me."

Foresight: "Make sure you wear clean underwear in case you're in an accident."

Irony: "Keep crying and I'll give you something to cry about."

Contortionism: "Will you 'look' at the dirt on the back of your neck!"

Stamina: "You'll sit there until all that spinach is finished."

Weather: "It looks as if a tornado has swept through your room."

Behaviour modification: "Stop acting like your father!"

Envy: "There are millions of less fortunate children in this world who don't have wonderful parents like you do!"

Anticipation: "Just wait until we get home."

Receiving: "You are going to get it when we get home!"

Medical science: "If you don't stop crossing your eyes, they are going to freeze that way."

Think ahead: "If you don't pass your spelling test, you'll never get a good job."

Humour: "When that lawnmower cuts off your toes, don't come running to me."

Become an adult: "If you don't eat your vegetables, you'll never grow up."

Sex: "How do you think you got here?"

Genetics: "You're just like your father."

Wisdom of age: "When you get to be my age, you will understand."

Justice: "One day you'll have kids... and I hope they turn out just like you!"

What their mothers might have said....

Mary, Mary, quite contrary's mother: "I don't mind you having a garden, Mary, but does it have to be growing under your bed?"

Mona Lisa's mother: "After all that money your father and I spent on braces, Mona, that's the biggest smile you can give us?"

Humpty Dumpty's mother: "Humpty, if I've told you once, I've told you a hundred times not to sit on that wall. But would you listen to me? N0000!"

Columbus' mother: "I don't care what you've discovered, Christopher. You still could have written!"

Michelangelo's mother: "Mike, can't you paint on walls like other children? Do you have any idea how hard it is to get that stuff off the ceiling?"

Napoleon's mother: "All right, Napoleon. If you aren't hiding your school report inside your jacket, then take your hand out of there and prove it!"

Mary's mother: "I'm not upset that your lamb followed you to school, Mary, but I would like to know how he got better marks than you.,,"

Batman's mother: "It's a nice car, Bruce, but do you realise how much the insurance is going to be?"

Goldilocks' mother: "I've got a bill here for a broken chair from the Bear family. You know anything about this, Goldie?"

Little Miss Muffet's mother: "Well, all I've got to say is if you don't get off your tuffet and start cleaning your room, there'll be a lot more spiders around here!"

Jonah's mother: "That's a nice story, but now tell me where you've really been for the last three days."

Superman's mother: "Clark, your father and I have discussed it, and we've decided you can have your own telephone line. Now will you stop spending so much time in all those phone booths?"

Thomas Edison's mother: "Of course I'm proud that you invented the electric light bulb, Thomas. Now turn off that light and go to bed!"

DO YOU KNOW THESE FACTS?

British families throw away the equivalent of six meals a week. Britons spend eight times as long watching television as they do cooking meals.

In spite of all the cookery shows on British television, the average Briton only knows four recipes.

There is a variety of carrot beginning with every letter of the alphabet except X.

Croquet was dropped as an Olympic sport after 1900 because only one spectator turned up to watch.

The first man to swim from John O'Groats to Land's End grew a beard to protect his face from jellyfish stings.

Scotland has the largest bog in Europe.

There are more stretch limos in Glasgow than in Los Angeles.

There are more Catholics in Scotland than in Northern Ireland.

In 2007, Scotland spent £i25,000 devising a new national slogan.

The winning entry was 'Welcome to Scotland.'

4% of the sand on Normandy beaches is made up of tiny metal particles from the D-Day landings.

Half the world's population has a genetic mutation that makes Brussels sprouts taste extremely nasty.

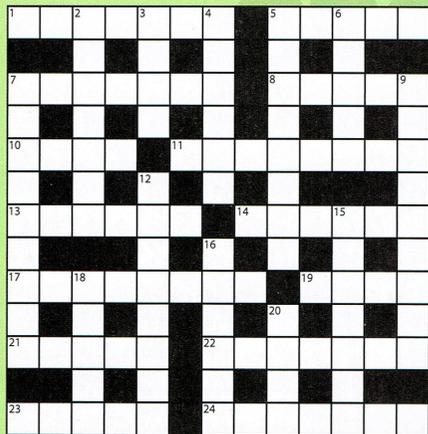

As a boy, Roald Dahl taste-tested new chocolate bars for Cadbury's.

People who try to stop thinking about chocolate eat more of it than those

The first man to pass the compulsory driving test in Britain in 1935 was Mr Beene.

Unscramble the words to find the cake

- | | |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| 1. ebkaancaan | 12. epepcna |
| 2. eckocctouta | 13. ckfefefoca |
| 3. nmiuff | 14. kfclajp |
| 4. gyoulle | 15. elkaecnmo |
| 5. hvciiewtdonraisa | 16. ckeanaps |
| 6. eekcacclse | 17. ccahoocekealt |
| 7. eckharcissammt | 18. eckaarcrto |
| 8. ejkaafcaf | 19. nftiif |
| 9. edkuanctee | 20. dsaheorrbt |
| 10. islwoirrs | 21. tduantleaawnd |
| 11. sbireonw | |

QUICK CROSSWORD

ACROSS

- Sink back (7)
- Squander (5)
- Accumulation (7)
- Guffaw (5)
- Singing part (4)
- Decrees (8)
- Cleared up (6)
- Rearrange (6)
- Month (8)
- Voucher (4)
- Tag (5)
- Gripped (7)
- Sturdy (5)
- Held up (7)

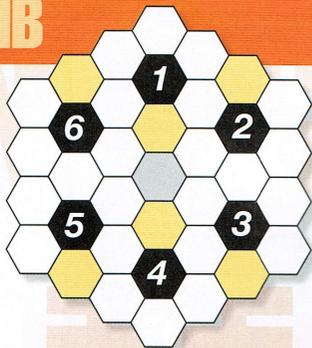

DOWN

- Found (7)
- Tug (4)
- Fourscore (6)
- Affluent (4-2-2)
- Crouch (5)
- Very pretty (9)
- Paused (9)
- Charmed (8)
- Sad (7)
- Intensely cold (6)
- Biblical tower (5)
- Not succeed (4)

HONEYCOMB

Each solution starts on the coloured cell and reads clockwise round the number

- Low land between hills
- Fight
- Comedy partner of Hardy
- Short knife
- Sloping beam
- Portable computer

SUDOKU

Fill the grid so that every column, every row and every 3x3 box contains the digits 1 to 9

			7	8	6
				5
7	2		6					9
	3			8		6		7
6			7	2	3			9
1	2		5					8
	5				1	4	2
			5
4	6		9					1

WORDSEARCH

Look up, down, forwards, backwards and diagonally on the grid to find these words associated with change

- ADJUSTMENT
- ADVANCE
- ALTERATION
- CORRECTION
- DEVELOPMENT
- DIFFERENT
- INNOVATION
- METAMORPHOSIS
- MODIFICATION
- NOVELTY
- RECONSTRUCTION
- REVERSAL
- REVISION
- SHIFT
- SWITCH
- TRANSFORMATION
- TRANSITION
- TURNAROUND

R	U	I	D	M	F	Y	K	R	Y	L	I	Y	I	W	T	T	O
O	B	S	G	Q	T	N	E	M	T	S	U	J	D	A	X	T	C
V	V	Y	W	L	M	O	E	Q	D	Y	O	J	N	V	T	N	G
R	T	Z	E	Q	S	I	S	O	H	P	R	O	M	A	T	E	M
T	E	V	N	M	M	T	Q	B	B	L	E	V	O	J	C	R	S
L	O	V	X	N	J	C	V	Z	P	Z	C	F	D	Q	N	E	Q
N	D	I	I	K	J	E	E	O	D	A	O	T	I	X	D	F	O
K	L	P	N	S	Z	R	M	N	Y	B	N	R	F	F	J	F	Y
U	U	T	W	J	I	R	U	U	E	S	A	I	Z	I	H
U	D	E	V	E	L	O	P	M	E	N	T	N	C	H	D	S
E	O	Y	V	Q	R	C	N	V	V	Y	R	S	A	E	H	S	M
W	W	L	I	A	Z	M	E	P	F	M	U	I	T	K	Z	F	A
I	L	C	N	M	M	R	L	J	P	D	C	T	I	N	F	D	Z
B	T	R	A	N	S	F	O	R	M	A	T	I	O	N	V	Q	K
V	U	Z	J	A	L	T	E	R	A	T	I	O	N	A	Z	B	I
T	X	X	L	F	N	O	I	T	A	V	O	N	N	I	I	G	Z
W	X	F	I	J	G	P	S	T	R	G	N	C	Q	G	D	P	X
I	F	H	C	T	I	W	S	A	V	Z	E	Z	Y	A	H	G	C

WHEN YOU HIT YOUR PINKY TOE ON THE LEG OF THE COUGH

Quiet listening

2 Timothy 1:12

I know whom I have believed, and am convinced that he is able to guard what I have entrusted to him until that day.

A priest was being interviewed on radio. He'd been working in a part of Africa where people's lives had been devastated by an earthquake, and the release of poison gas which had killed many. The questioner asked, "What did you say to the survivors?"

What do you say to people whose lives have been rocked by sudden tragedy? My reaction was that it's a time to listen and help, not to make statements. First, because I have no easy answer to that sort of event. And second, because I don't think people can take in much of what you say, anyway, when their minds are brimming with anxiety and fear. People in shock are not searching for explanations, they are crying out for comfort. That goes beyond reasoned argument, back to a basic need to feel they're not alone. They want to know that someone cares. They need to feel arms round them, something, someone, to ease the pain.

God's love becomes real in these situations, not through sermons, but through quiet listening. They need our time, and maybe our tears, but not our logic.

One thing helps me. When Paul wrote to Timothy, with all his experience of pain and persecution, he affirmed, 'I know whom I have believed.' Paul believed in a person, not a philosophy. It wasn't ideas or words, but a presence who gave him the courage to go on. Faced with desperate people, isn't our job to crystallise his love and presence through ours? Not in sermons, but in the warmth of practical caring. The explanation can come later, when people realise they are loved.

A PRAYER

Lord, if I'm faced with someone's need today, help me to offer silence. Not in the coldness of indifference, but in warm welcome to hear their version of events.

Extract from No Strange Land, by Eddie Askew, first published 1987.

The Credit Card

The great day arrived! A day my eldest son had been eagerly anticipating for weeks. Dad was to take him to see the mighty Aston Villa play. (For the uninitiated, this is a topflight English football team averaging a game attendance in excess of 40,000 people).

Regaled with Villa scarf and hat, eleven-year-old Mark excitedly clambered into the car. First stop, the cash machine!

It all went wrong from here. Inexplicably, the machine retained the card and refused to pay out. Not helpful! The bank was closed.

How could I buy tickets now?

A two-mile dash home revealed that Gill, my wife, was out shopping with the other card that could have saved me. Then remembered, there was the passbook for a Building Society account and, "Heaven be praised" a never used credit card that was tucked away for such a calamity.

"Will we make it in time to the game, Dad?"

"Sure, we will, son," was the less than confident answer.

Another six-mile drive into the city did little for my blood pressure, more so when we ran to the firmly bolted door of the Building Society.

"It's okay. We'll use the credit card."

I could feel myself twitching as my son looked up at me with less than believing eyes.

"If we hurry, we can still make it."

With less than 15 minutes to kick-off, panic was just beginning to emerge from the depths of a usually placid, calm body. Surely, I will not have to explain to my boy that the dream is over.

My turn arrived at the ticket kiosk there was an enormous cheer from within the packed stadium.

"Hey, that must be the players coming out onto the pitch. We'll make kick-off if we hurry." "Sorry, sir, you can't buy tickets with credit on match day." "What?" said. "Next, please."

Can you imagine what it is like to be locked out of a major sporting event with the child you have just let down? The singing of the crowd cut through us like a knife as we slowly trudged around the deserted stadium concourse.

Nothing I could say would lighten the steps of our feet, which now felt as if we were wearing lead covered deep sea diving boots from the 1940s. Maybe if we walked round the stadium a few times, the walls would come tumbling down?

I am not sure where the courage came from, but when we came to pass the plush players and directors' entrance, we walked straight in.

"Excuse me, is there any way I can buy some tickets with a credit card?"

"No, I'm sorry." It was the final crushing blow which confirmed my complete failure and my son's greatest disappointment. "But you can have these tickets if you like." "Really? But how can I pay for them?"

"You don't need to pay. Someone else paid for them and they are obviously not turning up. Please, take these. Enjoy the game!"

"Whoa! Thank you."

Villa enjoyed their biggest win of the season from two of the best seats in the house, we saw it all - for nothing! Disaster ends in triumph.

The grace of God is poured out abundantly and unexpectedly, especially when our own hoarded resources are spent or failed.

Times come when events, people and even our very selves seem to conspire against advancement. But when the going becomes tough and the road is difficult one to walk - the undeserved favour and smile of God will surprise you.

It does me, time and time again.

This experience and comments were made by Commissioner Anthony Cotterill,

The leader of the United Kingdom Territory of The Salvation Army.

